FREE Festival Admission
Living History Admission Half Price!

NISHNAWBE ASKI NATION
UNITY - STRENGTH - SUCCESS

FORT WILLIAM HISTORICAL PARK
NWC

Preserving the Past
While Building the Future

Anishnawbe Keeshigun

August 15, 16 & 17, 2008

Featuring Grammy Nominated Northern Cree Drum

Fort William Historical Park and the Nishnawbe Aski Nation invite you to experience and compete in Northwestern Ontario's largest Competitive Pow Wow and Drumming Competition!

- Over $40,000 cash prizes to be won!
- Aboriginal Music and Entertainment
  featuring Chef David Wolfman, C-Weed, The Asham Stompers and 3 time Juno Award Winner Susan Aglukark
- Aboriginal food, arts & crafts marketplace

Competition Pow Wow

Registration: $10 per person, register on-site

Prizes: Cash for a variety of categories

Non-competitive dancers: Honorariums will be available and no registration fee is required.

NEW

Drumming Competition

Registration: $25 per drumming group, register on-site

Prizes: 1st - $3,000 • 2nd - $2,000 • 3rd - $1,000

A drum split will be available for drums who do not place in the competition.

NEW

Anishnawbe Keeshigun Princess Competition

All girls between the ages of 6 and 12 are invited to compete for the title of Anishnawbe Keeshigun Princess

Registration: FREE, register on-site

Visit www.fwhp.ca for more information

Master of Ceremonies, Allen Manitowabi
Arena Director, David Wilkinson
Assistant Arena Director, Ron Ranville
Head Male Dancer, Ryan Gustafson
Head Female Dancer, Shannon Gustafson
Host Drum Group, Northern Cree Drum
Co-Host Drum Group, Thunder Spirit Drum
Female Elder, Rose Moses
Male Elder, Garland Moses

Fort William Historical Park • www.fwhp.ca • 807-473-2344 • 1350 King Rd., Thunder Bay, ON

Ontario